

Big radio station conglomerates are purveyors of trash and mediocrity. All efforts should be made to prevent media consolidation and promote local programming.